Calling for an Ambulance

Imagine you arrive home from school and find your guardian unconscious on the floor. You check for danger, a response, and breathing. You find that the person is unconscious but breathing. You put them in the recovery position.

What should you do next?

1. Colour the correct answers.

(a) Find a phone and dial | 911 | 000 | 999

(b) Ask for | the police | an ambulance | the fire service

(c) After answering the communications operator's questions, you should:

2. Fill in your own responses to the operator's questions.

What's your address? _____

_____

What is the nearest cross street? _____

What is the telephone number you are calling from? _____

What is the name of the casualty? _____

What is the casualty's problem? _____

_____

_____

What is your relationship to the casualty? _____

_____